So far Andrew Carnegie and Mrs. Leland Stanford head the list of royal givers. Andrew has given to libraries, schools, &c., about $50,000,000, while Mrs. Stanford has given about $30,000,000 to the Stanford University.

The cotton crop estimates for this year take a pretty wide range, the twenty or more so far made by people who know all about it, running along from 8,962,000 to 11,250,000 bales. As a wild guesser, H. M. Neill, of Liverpool, leads with the latter number.

Even the "Colonies" are catching on to the combine game. The Philippine tobacco growers are forming a $6,000,000 or $7,000,000 combine, and it is said that U. S. officials have a hand in it. They will have both hands in it if the fellows who put their money in it don't keep a sharp look out.

LOCAL DOTS.

— Bruce Freeman, an aged and well known colored man, died Wednesday at his home near Carolina Beach, aged 70 years.

— "Wallie" Warren, Wilmington's crack third baseman last season, has signed with Birmingham Southern League next year. Smith, the Raleigh pitcher, likewise goes to Birmingham.

— The STAR acknowledges with thanks the receipt of a handsome calendar for the New Year with the compliments of Messrs. J. A. Springer & Co., the "old reliable" coal and wood dealers.

— On account of the blowing out of a valve in a boiler at Northrop's mill at 2:40 P. M. yesterday and the necessarily hurried ejection of the fire underneath, an alarm was sent in to the department from box 45, Front and Castle street. The damage by fire was of little consequence.

— Mr. Donald Van Richardson was married to Miss Frances Jessamine Buck, at Cambridge, Mass., on the 10th inst. "Don" is a son of Capt. V. V. Richardson, of Whiteville, and is well known in Wilmington. He is now engaged extensively in the lumber and shingle business at Bucksport, S. C., where the Buck family also own valuable properties. The STAR congratulates, "Don" and wishes him a hundred years of connubial bliss.

Fire in Brunswick County.

Wednesday night about 11 o'clock at Malmo, Brunswick county, fire completely destroyed two houses and their contents belonging to Mr. Frank Mints, who has been for many years employed at the chemical works of Mr. L. Hanson, of this city. The flames left Mr. Mints without a thing in the world and comes as a severe blow to him after the death of his wife only a short time ago. He now has a little daughter desperately ill with pneumonia. Mr. John H. Kuck, to whom news of Mr. Mints' misfortune was conveyed yesterday, sent him a box of groceries and other things to replenish his wants.

Committee Meeting This Afternoon.

At The Orton at 4 o'clock this afternoon there will be a meeting of the joint committee of Aldermen and business men recently appointed by the City Council and Chamber of Commerce, respectively, to devise some means for providing public conveniences and comforts for the hundreds of excursionists who visit the city every Summer. Definite plans will be put on foot at the committee meeting and a complete attendance is urged. Those composing the committee are Messrs. L. B. Rogers, T. W. Clawson and W. E. Worth, of the Chamber of Commerce, and Aldermen Jno. H. Sweeney, E. P. Bailey and George Harriss.

Negroes Who Stole Cooking Utensils.

John Spicer and James Armstrong, the colored men charged with the robbery of a stove and cooking utensils from the smallpox hospital, were each held for the higher court in bonds of $100 and $150, respectively, by Justice Fowler yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Neither of them could give bond and both were committed to jail for appearance at the January term. Spicer confessed to having been induced by Armstrong to steal the articles, and Jim Wilkins, a drayman, testified as to Armstrong's having hired him to bring the property to the city from where it was hidden in the bushes near the hospital.

Purchase of Insurance Agency.

In another column Messrs. Bellamy & Bellamy, attorneys for the estate of the late Dr. W. W. Harriss, give notice that the insurance business lately carried on by the deceased, has been sold to Col. Walker Taylor, the well known and enterprising insurance man with offices in the Produce Exchange building. The business of Dr. Harriss has fallen into most excellent hands and policy holders are to be congratulated. It is earnestly hoped by Messrs. Bellamy & Bellamy that the support and patronage given Dr. Harriss will be continued with the purchaser of the business.

Local Cotton Advanced.

Yesterday's local cotton market afforded encouragement for those who predicted weeks ago that before the New Year the staple would bring 8 cents in Wilmington. In face of a slight decline in New York futures, local quotations yesterday at the Produce Exchange were on the basis of 7⅞ cents for middling, which is an advance over previous day's prices and the highest mark attained here during the season. Receipts yesterday were 1,589 bales against 1,190 bales same day last year.

The Sunday School Union.

The lesson for next Sabbath on the "Passover" was taught with much clearness and precision by Dr. Blackwell at the meeting of the Primary and Junior Sunday School Union at the Y. M. C. A. at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Next week Dr. Blackwell will teach the lesson for the following Sunday and a recess will be taken until after the holidays. There was an increased attendance at the meeting yesterday afternoon.

GREEN SWAMP LANDS

Title to Much Real Estate in Brunswick Involved in the Federal Court.

A. T. CLARK IS RECEIVER.

Appointed by Judge Purnell Yesterday. Restraining Order Against Defendants Until the Final Hearing First Monday in February.

[Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 12.—Judge Purnell, in the Circuit Court to-day, appointed A. T. Clark, of Columbus county, temporary receiver for 170,000 acres of land in Brunswick and Columbus counties, pending final hearing and settlement of the suit entitled the New Jersey and North Carolina Land and Lumber Company vs. the Gardener Lacy Lumber Company, of Georgetown, S. C., and seventy-five other defendants.

The proceeding is a bill in equity to quiet the title and restrain trespass, stop the cutting and removing of timber and to appoint a temporary receiver to take charge of the timber already cut and logged by the defendants.

After appointing Mr. Clark receiver, Judge Purnell issued a restraining order against defendants until the final hearing, which was set for the first Monday in February.

Iredell Meares, Esq., of Wilmington, was here to-day as an attorney for the plaintiff in the suit, and it was at his instance that the receiver was appointed and other action taken.

A party of civil engineers, according to this week's Southport Standard, are at work making a survey of the famous "Green Swamp lands" in Brunswick county. This action is in conformity to an order of court several years ago in connection with suits brought in the Federal Court by the New Jersey and North Carolina Land and Lumber Company against certain parties to dispossess them of lands embraced within the bounds of their claims.

The company's claims are under three State grants issued in 1795, viz: to William Collins, Stephen Williams and Benjamin Rowell, being something over 62,000 acres in Brunswick and about 110,000 acres in Columbus county. Messrs. Meares & Ruark, of this city, are attorneys for the land company and a blue print of the survey as prepared by Capt. Jos. H. McRee, C. E., of this city, showing the outer courses of the property, has been supplied to the Register of Deeds of each county involved.

The Standard of yesterday says:

"It is well known that the named company has been endeavoring for several years to make their lines meet around this large area of land, embracing the greater part of the Great Green Swamp, and the present survey is the one ordered by the court several courts ago at the instance of the attorneys in the suits instituted by the company against certain parties for occupying the land embraced within the bounds of their claims. It is not yet known what success the present surveying party will have."

Died Yesterday in Richmond.

News reached the city yesterday of the death at an early hour the same morning of Mrs. Robert E. McCumber, relect of the late R. E. McCumber, which occurred at the home of her son in Richmond, Va. Deceased was a native of Wilmington and at her death had reached the extreme age of 96 years and seven months. She is survived of the immediate family by two sons, Mr. James M. McCumber, of Wrightsville Sound, and Mr. R. E. McCumber, of Richmond. The remains will be brought to Wilmington this morning and the interment will be at Oakdale, with funeral services at the cemetery by Rev. J. M. Wells, Ph. D.

Johnson Dry Goods Stock.

Messrs. J. H. Rehder & Co. say the STAR was in error yesterday in naming the amount paid for the Johnson Dry Goods stock, the same having been in excess of the sum stated. On account of the great holiday rush now going on at their popular store, Messrs. Rehder & Co. will not open the Johnson Company store until January 3d. Then there will be an opportunity for great bargains as the stock was conceded by all to have been one of the very best in the city. At present Messrs. Rehder & Co. are too busy with holiday orders to get the stock in shape for the retail trade.

Machinery For Fisheries.

The schooner Addie P. McFadden, 199 tons, Capt. Stewart, arrived yesterday from Promised Land, L. I., with a cargo of machinery for the rendering plant of the Cape Fear Fisheries Company at Old Brunswick. The schooner will be at the works down the river for several days discharging after which she will probably proceed to the city for cargo.

Mr. J. Robert Jordan Married.

Mr. J. Robert Jordan, the well known and talented Knights of Pythias lecturer, who frequently visits Wilmington, was married in Asheville Wednesday, his bride being a young lady who came from Peoria, Ill., to meet him and to whom he has been engaged for several years.

THE PRINCESS STREET WORK

Improvement of One Link Now Under Way and the Thoroughfare Will be the Finest in the City.

Within at least two weeks Princess street from the river to Ninth and Ninth to Market street will be paved and macadamized, affording one of the prettiest and what is destined to be the most popular thoroughfare in the city.

The section of street from the river to Second has been paved with cobble and vitrified brick for some time, and Monday Messrs. Roger Moore's Sons & Co., the contractors, will begin the work of laying the section between Second and Fourth streets with fireproof blocks. One block of this section is now prepared for the actual brick laying, and both blocks have the curbing placed.

Yesterday the street force finished the work of macadamizing with excellent material and superior workmanship the blocks between Fourth and Ninth streets, so it will be seen that when the brick work is done Princess will be one of the "finest of the fine." The long section of street from Fourth to Ninth is a specimen of excellent street macadam, and is pronounced by many the best ever done in the city. The material from the quarry has been unsurpassed, and the manner of its laying could not be improved upon. With the exception of one block of that stretch of macadam, stone curbing has been laid, and the one block excepted has been fitted with excellent creosoted wood curbing, which, it is said, will last for ages.

"THE BELLE OF NEW YORK."

That High Class Attraction Bids Fair to Pack Theatre Monday Night.

It will seem good to listen to Kerker's Champagney music once again and watch the gorgeous gayety of Hugh Morton's "Belle of New York" at the Opera House next Monday, the 16th.

The management has been complimented for having kept the piece up to a high standard. No doubt there will be considerable curiosity to see E. J. Connelly in the role of Isabod Bronson, President of the Young Men's Rescue League and Anti-Cigarette Society of Cochoes. Mr. Connelly has established himself as a legitimate comedian by his admirable work as Joel Gates in "Shore Acres," and he has also given a taste of his farcial ability as old Molineux in "Hotel Topsy," but Bronson being so far away from his previous work will be looked forward to with much interest. The part of Violet Gray, the Salvation Army lassie, is being played this season by Miss Beulah Dodge, who is making a decided impression in the part. Quite a number of the London company are still with the "Belle of New York" as well as a beautiful and shapely chorus. The costumes and scenery are all new and "The Belle of New York" this season is said to be bigger, brighter and better than ever. Seat sale begins this morning at Gerkens' and indications point to one of the largest audiences ever seen in the theatre.

IN MEMORY OF DR. HARRISS.

Local Board of Fire Underwriters Adopt Touching Resolutions Upon His Death.

At a special meeting of the Local Board of Fire Underwriters held December 12th, 1901, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted by a rising vote:

"The hearts of friends cannot rebel when death has claimed one who has passed in honor the 'three score years and ten' allotted to man, and who had so nearly reached the four score without seeing his strength become then but 'labor and sorrow;'

"Therefore, in the death of our late president and friend, Dr. William W. Harriss, we must recognize only the working of the inevitable law of nature, directed by the beneficence of the Divine will, which permitted us to so long enjoy the companionship of his kindly nature, his high probity and engaging courtesy.

"The strenuousness of life he had left behind him and the rivalries and competitions incident to its struggles did not dim the cheerful intercourse with his contemporaries, which was a peculiar characteristic of his sunny nature, the interruption of which will be to us a source of deep regret.

"We tender to his numerous and loving descendants our heartfelt sympathy, and direct that this testimonial, with the dates of his birth and death, be spread upon a page of our minutes, and that a copy be sent to his family."

"UNCLE JOSH SPRUCEBY."

"Uncle Josh Spruceby," with his fine band and orchestra will be seen at the Opera House for performances to-morrow at matinee at 3 P.M and at night. A number of specialities and special scenery are introduced. Band concert and parade at noon. The Greensboro Record, 11th inst., says:

Old farmer plays are getting rather threadbare, but as a matter of fact the Josh Spruceby Company here last night gave the best performance of this kind seen here in a long time. The play was interspersed with most excellent music by a good orchestra and a number of specialties, all of which brightened it and amused the crowd. There are some clever actors in the company and considering the nature of the play they scored a success. Seats are now on sale.

Election of Officers.

BOARD OF JUSTICES.

MEETING AT COURT HOUSE.

Little Objection is Raised to New Hanover's Joining City in Appropriating $6,000—Death of the Late Dr. Harriss Announced.

The Board of Justices of New Hanover at a meeting at the Court House yesterday noon decided almost unanimously to authorize the County Commissioners to borrow, if necessary, the amount of money needed for the pro rata appropriation of $6,000 with the city for furnishing the James Walker Memorial Hospital. At a subsequent meeting of the Commissioners the action of the magistrates was confirmed and Chairman McEachern was vested with authority to take the necessary steps to make the money immediately available for the Hospital Managers who will send at once a committee, consisting of Dr. G. G. Thomas, Dr. Thos. R. Little and Mr. Sam Bear, Jr., to the North to make the purchase.

The Board of Justices was organized by the calling to the chair of Maj. W. F. Robertson. Roll call showed 41 out of 77 magistrates present. None of the country townships was represented. Maj. Robertson said that the honor of being chairman was an unexpected one and he would ask Chairman McEachern, of the Board of County Commissioners, to state the object of the meeting, which he did in a clear and concise manner, explaining the circumstances of there being no unappropriated county funds on hand, hence the necessity for a meeting of the magistrates to authorize a loan and the implied promise of the justices to provide for meeting the same in the next tax levy. He requested George Rountree, Esq., to explain the legal status of the probable appropriation, as some had urged that the hospital, being a private corporation, could not legally expect funds from the county, the Commissioners of which had no right to appropriate except for county purposes.

Mr. Rountree thought an appropriation by the county would do no violence to the act and was entirely in the province of the Commissioners. He had made a study of the question with Eugene S. Martin, Esq., and both had reached that conclusion. He questioned the desirability of the charter under which the hospital was being operated, but if any serious objection came in the future, there was a remedy in legislation.

Chairman Robertson called upon Mr. Sam Bear, Jr., of the Hospital Board, to state the desires of the hospital authorities, which he did in the same lucid manner as before at a previous meeting reported in these columns.

After further desultory discussion Mr. R. C. Cantwell made a motion "that the Commissioners be authorized to appropriate out of any moneys in hand or not otherwise appropriated, or to borrow funds to the amount of $3,600 to equip and furnish the James Walker Memorial Hospital," it being understood that the city would pay its pro-rata share of two-fifths or $2,400.

Mr. B. F. King entered the objection that the hospital was entirely a private affair; that it could refuse city and county patients, if it desired, and that the commissioners in appropriating money would be putting it beyond their control, which they had no right to do.

There were calls for the question and the motion prevailed by acclamation, only two or three voting in the negative.

As the magistrates were about to adjourn, Justice G. W. Bornemann feelingly announced the death of the late Dr. Wm. White Harriss, a member of the Board of Justices, and for many years its chairman. He thought the Board should take some action relative to his death. Upon motion of Justice McGowan, the chairman was authorized to appoint a committee to draft suitable resolutions and have same inscribed on the minutes. The chairman appointed on the committee, Maj. Wm. H. Bernard, Justices J. M. McGowan, G. W. Bornemann and M. W. Jacobi.

Meeting of Commissioners.

Immediately upon adjournment of the Board of Justices, the Commissioners met down stairs in their room Chairman D. McEachern presiding and members present being Messrs. W. F. Alexander, F. A. Montgomery and H. L. Vollers.

Upon motion of Mr. Vollers it was resolved that three-fifths of the $6,000 donation requested by the Board of Managers of the James Walker Hospital be contributed by the county; provided the City of Wilmington contributes the two fifths and the chairman in the motion is thereby authorized to issue warrant for same.

Upon further motion of Mr. Vollers it was resolved that the chairman be authorized and empowered to make a note for $3,600 in accordance with action of the Justices of the Peace at meeting held the same day to cover contribution to the James Walker Memorial Hospital.

It was the sense of the Board, as suggested by the chairman, that in order to save interest on the loan the amount be paid out of funds now on hand for other purposes and that when it is needed by the several departments that the note then be executed.

JUMP IN SPANISH PEANUTS.

Peanut dealers and growers have been watching with much interest the past few days the rapid rise at Norfolk and other points of the Spanish variety of peanuts. Within the past eight or ten days there has been a jump of from ten to twelve cents per bushel and stock is hard to obtain even at the advanced figures, which are from 70 to 75 cents. In North Carolina peanuts the rise has been merely nominal and in Virginia grown the prices are about the same. North Carolinas on this market are worth from 65 to 75 cents, while Virginias are bringing from 55 to 65 cents per bushel of 28 pounds.

Mr. F. P. Sidbury, an extensive grower of Rocky Point, Pender county, who was in the city yesterday, stated that the rapid rise in Spanish nuts was on account of the very short crop, due to excessively wet weather which Spanish peanuts cannot stand. The acreage in Wilmington's territory was increased about three-fold from last year, but the yield will not be as large. From this statement some idea of the condition of the crop may be gathered. The yield of North Carolina and Virginia peanuts, Mr. Sidbury thinks, will be about the same as last year in all local territory.

Special Meeting of Aldermen.

Mayor Waddell has called a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen, to be held Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, for the purpose of considering the matter of appropriation for equipping the Walker Memorial Hospital. It is not contemplated that serious objection will be made to the proposed measure, as five Aldermen have already publicly expressed their purpose to vote for it and Mayor Waddell has said that he would cast the deciding vote, if necessary, for the appropriation. Another matter for consideration will be the granting of liquor licenses for the new year, a large number of applications for renewals now being in the hands of the clerk.

Mr. Hinton in Charleston.

The News and Courier of yesterday in a column write-up of the new Argyle Hotel which was formally thrown open to the public yesterday and which is being managed by Mr. Jos. H. Hinton, of Wilmington, says: "The Argyle is situated on the southwest corner of Meeting and Hasell streets, and is arranged to accommodate probably three hundred or more guests. It is a four story brick building, with a fine frontage on Meeting and Hasell streets, and entrances on both sides. The exterior of the building is attractive and gives the idea of strength and compactness. Inside it is found that ample provision has been made for the entertainment of its guests, and not only have the actual needs been looked after, but the comforts and luxuries that are now becoming almost to be regarded as necessities have not been overlooked."

BY WILLIAM H. BERNARD

WILMINGTON, N. C.

FRIDAY MORNING, DEC. 13

AN EMBARRASSING PROBLEM.

We do not hear so much talk now about the "pacified" Philippines, the end of the war, the establishing of civil governments and all that kind of thing, of which we heard so much a year or two ago. Even the statesmen who declared the problem had been settled and that all we would have to do in future would be to drive to their holes the banditti and guerillas who might bob up and take to the road, and then fix up the civil governments, put the machinery to running and get down to business, have changed their minds and come to the conclusion that we have a very embarrassing problem to deal with over there. In his message President Roosevelt frankly admitted this when he said:

"To leave the islands at this time would mean that they would fall into a welter of murderous anarchy Such desertion of duty on our part would be a crime against humanity."

This reads as if Mr. Roosevelt looked ahead to the time when we would "leave" those islands and turn them over to their own people, but he followed this up with another paragraph which shows that he considers that time so remote as not to be a subject of present contemplation when he said:

"Our aim is high. We do not desire to do for the islanders merely what has elsewhere been done for tropic peoples by even the best of foreign governments. We hope to do for them what has never before been done for any people of the tropics—to make them fit for self-government after the fashion of the really free nations."

Rationally construed this means that we are to remain in the Philippines until we have performed the practically impossible feat of converting these children of the tropics into entirely different beings, in other words performing an act of re-creation, and producing by that operation an entirely different being from the Filipino nature made. Mr. Roosevelt and the rest of the statesmen who believe in holding on to these islands realize that this is a stupendous job, one of the most stupendous ever undertaken by a civilized nation. He is a pretty plain spoken man, and while he is apparently frank in these utterances the frankness is not real, for this is talk to placate the anti-expansionists in his own party and to justify a monstrous wrong by pleading good intentions, on the principle that "the end justifies the means" when every one knows that we did not go into the Philippines for the good of the Filipino, that we did not stay there for his good, and are not there now for his good, but for our own gain, and hence there is in all these professions of philanthropy and the dictates of duty rot and nothing else.

No one proposes that we shall leave the islands "now" and let them "fall into a welter of murderous anarchy" as Mr. Roosevelt says, and no one asks that we do more than to frankly declare that it is not our purpose to hold perpetual control over those people but to help them in the task of framing governments for themselves, just as we did for Cuba, and just as we will do for Porto Ricoe. It may possibly take longer to do that for those islands than it did for Cuba, but let it be known that it will be done as speedily as practicable and when it is done the Filipinos will be given the reins. That would simplify the solution of the problem, for seeing self rule ahead the Filipinos who are anxious for it would set themselves in earnest to qualifying their people for it. There would be no "desertion of duty" and no "crime against humanity" in that, but a noble exhibition of chivalrous unselfishness and devotion to pledges expressed or implied, which would do this country unbounded honor and more good than all it will ever get out of those islands and their people.

But why presume on the gullibility of people by talking about "our high aim" and doing "more for these islanders than was ever before done for tropic people by even the best of foreign governments," when every one knows, and it has so often been admitted by the expansonists that we are there not to make a different people out of the Filipinos, but to make as much out of them and their islands as possible, for ourselves, and to make them a way station and base of supplies in extending our commerce on Asiatic shores? Was there ever a speech made in the discussion of the policy of forcible expansion which did not close with the mercenary argument showing how valuable these islands will be to us and what a vantage ground they would give in building up our commerce with the Oriental nations? This was mercenary and blunt, but more creditable, however disreputable, than the transparent hypocrisy which pretends that we are in those islands from a sense of duty, and are there for the good of the people of these islands.

If duty compels us to stay there and keep guns pointed at their people does it compel us to stay there for ages? What is there to prevent us from saying to those people that we want them to take charge of their own affairs and to fit themselves for it, and when they do all we shall demand is that in return for all we have done for them they shall cede us the right to certain ports that we may protect our interests on that side of the earth, and also be in a position to protect them from themselves if necessary, in other words, concessions similar to those provided for in the Platt amendment to the Cuban constitution, which we forced upon Cuba. Wouldn't that be fulfilling our duty even as the strictest constructionist might understand it, doing all that civilization might require or that any nation might expect from us?

That we can and will give those islands better government than they have ever had, or than they could give themselves now no American doubts, but that we can metamorphose these children of the tropics and transform them into self-ruling Americans in one, two or three generations no one believes. Mr. Roosevelt and those for whom he speaks are simply essaying the impossible if they mean what they say—but they don't. They are simply using the philanthropic pretence to cover and make less odious the game of grab.

A PROPOSED OBJECT LESSON.

A few days ago the president of the Georgia Central Railroad suggested that the farmers of Georgia be given an object lesson—in contrast—at the next State fair. His idea was to select two plots, on one of which would be presented an illustration in life of one of the farms too common in that State, with its shackly, leaky cabin with gourd vine decorations, its weather-beaten, antiquated mule, creaking cart, earth-scratching plow, scrub cattle, scrub poultry and half dozen or so of half-starved lop-eared dogs basking in the sunshine.

Adjoining he would have the model up-to-date farm, with its sulky plow that turns up the soil right, other labor saving machinery, a neat, tidy cottage with modern conveniences for the housewife and family, high grade stock and poultry and other things found on the up-to-date, well conducted farm. From these he thinks the farmer might gather some useful points and learn how to live and to work to some purpose. The Savannah News, in commending this scheme, comments upon it thus:

"The object lesson would no doubt be productive of good results. We need something of the sort to awaken our farmers from their 'conservatism,' which might better be called lethargy. Thousands of them are to day following precisely the methods that where employed by their fathers and their grandfathers before them. It may be that they do not put a counterbalancing rock in the other end of the cornsack when they go to mill, but they do a great many things that are equally absurd. They plow as the people plowed sixty years ago, and they harvest as their grandfathers harvested. All the rest of the world has moved ahead, but they have remained stationary. Is it any wonder that they are often heard to grumble about hard times? No manufacturer could hope to prosper by using the methods of the middle of the last century; how can the farmers hope to do it?"

We have an idea that there are in North Carolina some of the kind of farmers herein referred to, some who imagine they are farming when they are pursuing the methods of two or three generations ago, and take it out, when they fail, in growling at the hard luck that follows them.

"THE OPEN DOOR."

There has been a good deal of talk within the past two years about "the open door" in China, but while we have been talking our trade in China has fallen off. This has been attributed to the war in that country, but reports of our consuls show that while our trade has fallen off, the trade of nearly all European countries that deal with China has increased. If the war decreased our trade, it should have decreased their trade, so that it wasn't the war, but something else that gave us the set-back.

It can't be said by the ship subsidyites that it was need of ships, for we used foreign ships in building up the trade we had in China and we could have had the use of these ships since the war began, as we had before. Maybe we just took it for granted that because there was a war in that country we couldn't sell goods there and contented ourselves with talking about "the open door," the need of subsidies for American ships, &c,, while our European competitors kept their eyes on business, pushed it, and pushed us out. Doubtless the protective tariff had something to do with it, and other traders who were not so hampered, or so much so, got the advantage of our traders.

Open doors are all right, but there is something necessary besides open doors to build up trade in a foreign country and to hold it when we have hustling and aggressive competitors to contend with.

Lawson, the Boston copper king, lost $10,000,000 on the slump in copper, but he got mad the other day, took a hitch on the boys and got some of it back. He says he's going to make them do some squealing before he lets up. The little matter of $10,000,000 wasn't so much, but he wants satisfaction and scalps.

Schlitz

The beer that made Milwaukee famous

You drink some beers that cause bilious headache. Perhaps you think that all beers do.

The cause of biliousness is the lack of age—too much haste to put the beer on the market. To ferment beer thoroughly requires a process of months. Without it the fermentation takes place in your stomach. That is the cause of biliousness.

Hurried beer is unhealthful. Schlitz beer is kept for months in refrigerating rooms with a capacity of 205,000 barrels—kept almost at freezing point until it is well fermented. Schlitz beer is never marketed until thoroughly aged.

The fame of the American catfish is spreading. In France they are beginning dote over him. A fish-ologist who seems to have been studying (at long range) this priscotorial American reports the following through the columns of a Parisian newspaper: The catfish is of peaceful habits, "lives on worms and is easily tamed. When it lacks oxygen it rises to the surface of the water, where it remains in a perpendicular position, with its head out of the water and utters a metallic cry." Rings as it were for oxygen. It is perfectly docile except when irritated, but the Frenchman who became too familiar with and handled with too much freedom one of these peaceful river navigators would be apt to utter a sulphuric cry when he jabbed into his hand one of these numerous needle-pointed stickers that this unsophisticated river scavenger, which lives on worms, is equipped with and always keeps ready for use.

An Indiana court has decided that under certain circumstances verbal contracts made on the spur of the moment and on the bank of a creek are as binding as if duly written, signed, sealed and delivered. Last January a farmer's wife attempted to cross in a buggy a swollen stream. She was in danger of being drowned when the farmer hailed two men riding near by and offered them $1,000 to rescue her. At the peril of their lives they jumped in and brought her safely to shore. Some time afterwards they called on him for the $1,000, but he had changed his mind in the meantime, refused, and made over the farm to his wife. The men sued, recovered judgment, and he was forced to pay, but they let him off at $600.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— The Germans have another grievance against this country. It has just ascertained that, man for man, the German workman produces only two-fifths as much finished product as an American workman using precisely the same machinery. This is a unique feature of the "American Peril," which will naturally disturb our Teutonic friends.—Philadelphia Telegraph, Dem.

—— The resolution introduced in the Senate on Monday, authorizing and requesting the President to institute negotiations with other civilized nations looking to the establishment of an international, or extra-national, colony on some island or islands, as an exclusive and enforced asylum for Anarchists, appears to be a very right and proper measure. Anarchists themselves could not justly object to such an arrangement, and nobody else would. —Charleston Newsand Courier, Dem.

—— The New York Sun fears that the proposed anarchy island would be uninhabited because it would have to be populated by those who confess that they are anarchists, and that with such banishment awaiting them anarchists would keep their mouths shut. Then by all means let's have the island. If the vaporings of anarchists were stopped the propagation of their creed among the weak and crude minds would be largely checked. If there had been no anarchist press and rostrum there would have been no Czolgosz.—Louisville Courier-Journal, Dem.

—— It goes without saying that the public will not favor the proposed increase of Congressmen's pay from $5,000 to $10,000 a year. A very large proportion of Congressmen would be dear at any price; but all are necessarily on the same level as to salary, and $5,000 is quite enough to support any of them comfortably with something to spare if they live reasonably. As it is, the salaries of Representatives and Senators now aggregate $2,225,000 a year, to say nothing of the sum collected as mileage, or of the clerk for each at $2,500 a year and as much more in expenses.—Brooklyn Citizen, Dem.

White Man Turned Yellow.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty, of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was Yellow Jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." Attention is being directed more and more throughout the North to the wonderful mining resources of our State, as to gold, copper and other minerals.

Brown, Knox and Shedd, Northern capitalists, and the directors of the chamber of commerce, at which several other prominent citizens including Col. C. W. Broadfoot and Maj A. A. McKethan, were present. The conference was on the subject of the proposed railroad to this place via Southern Pines, N. C., which now seems to be a certainty in the near future. Another meeting on the subject will be held in the course of a week, when something definite will be arrived at.

The ball entered the left side passed through the abdominal cavity and lodged in the back. The wound was seen to be serious from the first and last night Mr. Roberts came up and surrendered himself this morning and is now in jail. He claims that he did the shooing in self defence, that Robertson was assaulting him with a bottle and a chair. He bears an ugly wound in his forehead as proof of this.

The special agent is Mr. Franklin Sherman, Jr., entomologist of the Department of Agriculture, and he made a report Wednesday of his investigation to Commissioner L. S. Patterson, chairman of the Crop Pest Commission. In his report Mr Sherman says: "I make no apology for denouncing the Amos Owen Cherry Tree Company as a fraud upon the people, and those who handled it, as knowing participators therein. Their method of business from the inception, has been false and deceitful in the extreme, and to make the crime as bad as possible, they have derived the greater part of the revenues from their trade, from the women and young girls, mainly of the poorer classes."

The Proofreader.

An anonymous writer in the American Printer of New York says:

"The ideal proofreader for a small printshop ought to be an accomplished printer, a sensible person, a person understanding the scope and limitations of the English language, one comprehending the true offices of punctuation, one with a keen and true appreciation of literature, a storehouse of exact knowledge, a perfect grammarian, a perfect speller and with a fund of humor sufficient to enable him to do his whole duty along these various lines without making for an early grave. If he does not really know everything, he ought assuredly to be able to scent out an error and to know how to get at the truth. If he reads the proofs for a weekly newspaper also, he ought to know all about local affairs and all about the town or city in order to prevent the reported marriage of the girl who merely acted as bridesmaid and untangle the mixed topography of the reporters' articles."

How to Make Hash.

Vegetable hash as usually made uses the vegetables left from a boiled dinner, such as cabbage, potatoes, beets, carrots and parsnips. For one quart of the vegetables about half a cupful of stock and one tablespoonful of butter should be used. Meat hash is sometimes varied by the addition of rice. Often to a beef and potato hash Spanish sweet peppers are added, together with chopped onion. A beef hash is much improved by tomato sauce.

How to Boil Vegetables.

A cooking teacher's directions for boiling vegetables, even onion, cabbage or cauliflower, without filling the house with an unpleasant smell are to cover the vegetables with boiling salted water and stand the kettle aside, where they cannot boil rapidly again, until tender. It is the steam, according to this authority, that is driven off by rapid boiling that carries away not only the odor, but the flavor of vegetables.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and perseverance in its use will work wonders for the most hopeless woman. If Mrs. Newton, whose letter is given below, had not persisted in its use, she might never have known the happiness of perfect health. Perhaps the reason for her persistence was because she used "Favorite Prescription" as a "last resort." Physicians had failed. If "Favorite Prescription" could not help there was nothing to hope for. It did help. It always helps and almost always cures. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It imparts strength and elasticity to the organs of maternity and makes the baby's advent practically painless.

"When I consulted you in April, 1899, I was in poor health," writes Mrs. E. H. Newton, of Vanburen, Aroostook Co., Maine "Had been sick all winter, and, to add to my trouble, was on the road to maternity, which the doctor said would end my days. I was almost discouraged, did not expect any help, but thought the end was only a matter of time, and—oh! my two poor, little, motherless children.

"It was in this condition that I began the use of your valuable medicine. On receipt of your letter of April 6th my husband purchased six bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and I used it as you directed. When you wrote me words of encouragement on April 27th I had received no benefit from the medicine, but determined as a last resort to give it a fair trial. I am now taking the thirteenth and last bottle. I have a lovely baby girl three weeks old, that weighed 11½ pounds at birth. My baby and I are enjoying perfect health, thanks to your wonderful medicine, to which I believe I owe my life."

BEE AND HIVE.

If the hive rests on the ground, it will be too damp.

It will pay to use foundations by filling all frames full.

From 9 o'clock a. m. to 3 o'clock p. m. includes the hours of successful operating with bees.

Procure new blood in the apiary. Inbreeding is as objectionable with bees as with live stock.

It is necessary to unite all weak colonies that will be unable to build up into strong stocks.

Care should be taken to save all young brood and the brood combs of those containing brood.

On account of it being the only material that can be depended upon to stay pine is the best material for hives.

Combs should not be left in empty hives about the apiary. That is the worst place they can be left, as moths are always to be found near the bees and are sure to infest the combs.

One advantage in closed end frames is that a hive full of combs may be handled as though it were a single piece instead of a collection of loose pieces, thus saving work, worry and time.

If the bees cannot conveniently enter the hives during the sudden changes of cool weather, quite a number will be lost; hence care should be taken to have the entrances arranged so that the bees can enter readily.

Domestic Differences.

Mrs. Enpeck—James, you are good on language. What is the difference between exported and transported?

Mr. Enpeck—Why, my dear, if you should go to England, you would be exported, and I—well, I would be transported.—Sunny South.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of one to four points, on support from shorts who were placed in a precarious position by failure of Liverpool cables to make their appearance as usual. London cables declared that a heavy wind storm had suddenly cut Liverpool off from the rest of the world, so far as wire communication was concerned. In view of the fact that our market last night closed twelve to thirteen points above the figures current when the English market finished the day yesterday, and was still higher on the curb last night, local bears had every reason to suspicion a radical change for the better in Liverpool to-day. But after the opening our market had an easier turn under profit-taking by smaller holders and a lull in covering, the latter caused by an unfavorable turn of the New Orleans market and by light selling from the South, light receipts and a tardy cable from Havre stating that Liverpool had opened four to five points higher, caused a quick rally in the market, which still later broke quite sharply under active liquidation and a show of courage by bear leaders, in part based on weakness in the stock market. In the last hour, however, the market made a sudden turn and jumped back to last night's final bids on a score of shorts and on enthusiastic bull support, started by a report that the English market had gained considerably on the opening bids before the final adjournment there. Continental orders lent color to these reports and tended to give additional strength to the buying movement. The South and New England spinners bought scattering amounts on the late rise. Profit taking sent prices off a shade from the top in the last ten minutes. The close was quiet and steady, with prices one to four points lower.

NATURE'S MISTAKES.

SOME THAT MEN CONSIDER TO BE OF REMARKABLE VALUE.

(Paradoxical as It May Appear, the Perfection of a Precious Stone Is Largely Due to Some Imperfection In Its Making by Nature.

Paradoxical as it may appear, the perfection of a gem is largely due to some imperfection in its make. Some little mistake made in the laboratory of nature produces a defective stone which is perfection itself from the lapidary's point of view. Ninety-nine out of every hundred emeralds dug from the mine are almost white and of little value, but the hundredth one is of a rich velvety green and, if without other flaws than its color, sells for $300 a carat or 240 times as much as its colorless brother. The reason of the rich color which gives the emerald its value is that nature, in making the stone, put in too much oxide of chromium, just as the cook sometimes gets too much saleratus in the biscuits. The standard of perfection in the laboratory of nature is the colorless emerald, and her deep green ones are some of her failures; failures which, nevertheless, delight mankind, however much they may disgust nature. You could buy a ton of oxide of chromium for the price which half a grain of it gives to a cheap and common crystal.

When nature makes mistakes in manufacturing diamonds, the results are equally remarkable. Her standard for a diamond is a pure white stone, but sometimes a foreign substance gets into the crucible, and the result is a red or blue diamond. A fine white brilliant of one carat can be bought for $125, but a blue stone of that size would be cheap at $3,500. A red diamond is of even greater value, a red stone of fifteen grains having been sold for $5,000. Yet the little particle of foreign material which nature carelessly let fall into the mixture when she was making that stone down in the heart of some primeval volcano is of less value than a grain of common salt and only got there by mistake.

Nature manufactures in her laboratory a material called spinel. You can buy a block of spinel as large as you can carry for a few dollars. Sometimes in making spinel small quantities of chromic acid get into the material and color it a deep red. The pieces so colored nature rejects as spoiled in the making and throws them in the dust bin, from which men dig them out and call them rubies. A ruby of thirty-two carats recently sold for $52,000. Yet the material of the cheap spinel and the valuable ruby are practically the same, save for that small fraction of chromic acid which got into the ruby by mistake.

When nature starts out to manufacture opals, she endeavors to make them without any cracks in them. In this she seldom succeeds, coming nearest to perfection in the Mexican opals, which have few cracks in them and therefore little luster. The fiery glow of the oriental opal and the play of light in the depths of that exquisite stone are due entirely to the numberless cracks which seam the surface of the gem. It must give nature a poor opinion of mankind when she sees him selling the Mexican opals, which are nearly perfect, for 12 cents a carat and paying $25 a carat for her failures, the cracked fire opal of the east.

Not only in gems, but in many other things, does nature make mistakes and failures, the results of which are highly valued by man. The chank shell, a shell much like the conch shell of these shores, is one of the commonest shells on the beaches of India, and millions of them are gathered and burned for the lime that is in them. Yet in a temple near Kandy, Ceylon, are two chank shells which hold the place of honor in a shrine covered with gold, and no amount of money could buy them from their guardian priests. Their value consists in the fact that nature was not quite herself the morning she fabricated these shells and gave a right handed twist to them instead of a left handed one, such as has been given to all other chank shells, so far as man knows, since the beginning.

Baron Rothschild once paid $300 a dozen for some Schloss Johannisberg wine, and it is admitted that, taking everything into consideration, it was not an exorbitant price. Yet the wine of the same year from the vineyard directly adjoining the Johannisberg vineyard, on the same bank of the Rhine, a vineyard whose soil is, to all appearances, the same, only brought $5 a dozen. And there is no special secret about the manufacture of Johannisberg wine or about the variety of grape used. Its great value comes from a little joke of nature. In the soil of the Johannisberg vineyard there is an infinitesimal amount of a certain salt which is found in the soil of no other vineyard. The admixture is so slight that no chemist has ever been able to imitate it, yet it is worth many thousands a year to the owner of the vineyard.

THE WIDOW TAX.

In Mindanao a Wife's Death Costs the Widower One Hundred Plates.

Becoming a widow or a widower is a much more serious business than getting married among some of the tribes in the Philippines. In Mindanao "marrying in haste" often leads to a prolonged "repenting at leisure," for they have an institution there known as the "widow tax"—"chabaloan" the natives call it. Upon the death of the wife the widower must pay a certain sum of money or its equivalent in goods to his father-in-law before he can go a-courting again. As money is a scarce article among these natives, the tax generally is paid in plates of common "stone china," which are much used by the natives as a medium of exchange. It is considered the proper thing for the bereaved one to pay 100 of these plates to his father-in-law for permission to look about him for a successor to the deceased helpmate.

If the husband dies, the widow at once becomes the property of her parents-in-law and so remains for life unless some relative comes forward and produces the necessary number of dinner plates. The natural result of this is that married people are all extremely solicitous for the health of each other. In sickness the invalid is sedulously attended by the partner of his or her joys and sorrows, the well person perhaps being moved more by the thought of those hundred plates than by real affection.

Divorce is unknown among these people, but a man may have as many wives as he pleases. It will be seen that in case of an epidemic which would sweep away his wives a married man would be in dire extremity. In the case of a death of a much married man his parents come into a small fortune, for they either have enough slaves to render future work on their part unnecessary or they receive enough plates from the families of the widows to set up a crockery store.

Modest Womanhood

A becoming modesty keeps many afflicted women from consulting a doctor about female diseases and the fear of an unnecessary surgical operation keeps many others away. In this way the poor suffering woman who longs for relief but shrinks from seeking it, gives up in despair. But hundreds of thousands of women in this country to-day, like Mrs. Steele, know that there is no need of giving up—that there is a positive home cure for female diseases within the reach of every modest woman.

WINE OF CARDUI

made life worth living for Mrs. Steele, when the best doctors in Illinois could not help her without an operation from which she recoiled with horror. If you are despondent, suffering female ills and bearing pain, go to your druggist and buy a bottle of Wine of Cardui. It will relieve you.

Peoria, Ill., April 5, 1901.

I have been a sufferer every month since I have been a woman and have been treated by the best doctors and found no relief. The last doctor wanted me to go to the hospital and have my ovaries removed. He said: "This is the only remedy I can see for you, Mrs. Steele." "No, no, I will not," I said. Then I found a Ladies' Birthday Almanac and this is the way I found relief and I am not butchered up by the doctor. I don't wait for my woman friends to see your advertisement, but I go and tell them. I can't speak good enough for this wonderful Wine of Cardui. I am a strong woman and do all my work and ride my bicycle. I send word to ladies I hear are suffering and I saved one lady from losing her baby by giving her Wine of Cardui Mrs. B. M. STEELE.

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles.

Knots on Trees.

In the barks of our forest trees are contained a multitude of latent buds, which are developed and grow under certain favorable conditions. Some trees possess this property in a remarkable degree, and often, when the other parts are killed down by frost, the property of pushing out these latent buds into growth preserves the life of the plant. These buds, having once begun to grow, adhere to the woody layer at their base and push out their points through the back toward the light.

The buds then unfold and develop leaves, which elaborate the sap carried up the small shoot. Once elaborated it descends by the bark, when it reaches the base or inner bark. Here it is arrested, so to speak, and deposited between the outside and inner layer of bark, as can be learned on examining specimens on the trees in the woods almost anywhere.

Manx Taxes.

In the matter of taxation the Isle of Man is unique. There is no income tax, no succession duties chargeable against the estates of deceased persons, no highway or turnpike tolls. Roads are maintained by the revenue from two sources—a small tax upon every wheel and shod hoof and a levy upon every male inhabitant, who must give a day's work on the road or its equivalent in cash. There are no stamp duties on receipts, checks, promissory notes, etc.; in fact, stamps are used only for postage.—London Standard.

Saves Two From Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of Whooping Cough and Bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y., "but, when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had Consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and to day she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infallible for Coughs and Colds. 50 cents and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by R. R. THE LATEST AS TO NERVES AND STRENGTH

It is not muscle so much as the nerves back of muscle which show one's strength and power of endurance. And the study with able physicians of to-day is how to keep the nerves in perfect health and fitted for the strain of every-day living. Headache of every type, nerve weakness, dyspepsia, sleeplessness, languor, restlessness, nervous dyspepsia, muscular weakness, brain weariness, poor circulation,—a thousand different unpleasant feelings and symptoms are due to nerve waste and nerve weakness,—especially in women and children. But how can all this be prevented, one will ask? How can my broken-down constitution be repaired, and nerve strength and full, robust health be secured. Just two points to remember: Determine that you will grow strong in nerves and health, and decide to use at once that most famous nerve cure, COCELIN. It is delicious in taste, quick in action and makes the wearied nerves tingle with renewed strength and every function the stronger and faculty the brighter by its use. Druggists sell it.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

FRIDAY MORNING, DEC. 13.

MR. CARNEGIE'S GIFT IS EMBARRASSING.

Not an Offer of Ten Millions in Cash, But of That Amount in Bonds of the Great Steel Trust.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

WASHINGTON, December 12.—It transpires that the gift of $10,000,000 which Andrew Carnegie tendered to President Roosevelt for the founding of a great institution for higher education was not an offer of $10,000,000 in cash, but the par value of that amount in bonds of the United States Steel Corporation. The offer of these bonds is embarrassing to the administration, owing to the complication which may arise if the government accepted them, and the President, it is understood, is now in correspondence with Mr. Carnegie about the matter. It is understood to be his desire that the bonds be converted into cash. If this is done the only obstacle in the path of the acceptance of the generous gift of Mr. Carnegie will be removed. Pending the result of this correspondence Mr. Carnegie's offer is being withheld from Congress. The President has conferred with several Senators and Representatives about the matter within the last day or two and all concur with him in the belief that the acceptance by the government of bonds in the big steel corporation might subject the administration to criticism and might prove exceedingly embarrassing in the future.

It is pointed out for instance that in the event of legal proceedings by the department of justice in connection with the corporation, the holding of the company's bonds by the government might lead to adverse criticism. The suggestion that the government accept the bonds and then dispose of them is considered equally objectionable.

SCHLEY COURT OF INQUIRY.

Nearing the End of Its Labors—The Report Will be Given to the Public as Soon as It is Submitted.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The Schley court of inquiry is nearing the end of its labors and while it is impossible to secure from the members or from the Navy Department a statement as to when the report will be submitted, it is believed that it cannot be delayed much more than twenty hours. It was said at the department this afternoon, at the close of the office hours, that the report was not finished. It is the intention of Secretary Long to have type-written copies of it prepared immediately for the press. Although clothed with reviewing authority, Secretary Long has said that he will not exercise it in this case. The report will be given to the public without the slightest change and without any endorsement in the nature of a review of the proceedings.

The court again was in session to day, though Admiral Dewey did not attend the afternoon meeting. Captain Lemly, the judge advocate of the court, paid a visit to the court room this morning and carried away some papers which while connected with the case were not the report of the court. He has not yet signed the report, as he expects to do.

NICARAGUA CANAL IN THE SENATE.

AFTER FOUR HOURS' DEBATE.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, December 12.—The Senate agreed to day to take a vote before adjournment next Monday on the new Hay-Pauncefote treaty for the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty and opening the way for the construction of a canal across the isthmus by the United States. This agreement was reached after four hours of a debate sufficiently interesting to insure the constant attendance of most of the Senators. Senator Spooner, who was one of the principal speakers of the day, had just concluded when Senator Lodge made an effort to secure a vote. It developed that there were other Senators who desired to be heard, the result being that the date for the vote was postponed until Monday. The agreement provided for an adjournment of the Senate from day to day until Monday and for a meeting at 11 o'clock of that day, one hour in advance of the usual time. The understanding is that as soon as practicable after the Senate convenes, Senator Lodge shall move an executive session and that the treaty shall have the entire attention of the Senate until a final vote is reached before the adjournment for that day.

Treaty Criticised.

The principal speakers to-day, besides Senator Spooner, were Senator Money and Senator Foraker. Mr. Money, while finding much in the treaty to criticise, said that as he found the fortunes of the proposed canal across the isthmus inextricably intertwined with the treaty he could not see his way clear to doing anything that would prevent or even delay ratification. The particular features of the new treaty with which he found fault were those retaining the neutrality provision of the Clayton-Bulwer convention, and specifying police control of the canal when built. He argued that the effect of these provisions, inevitably, must be to limit and prescribe the power of the United States to control its own property in case of war.

Senator Foraker maintained that provisions of the new treaty meet every objection made to the original Hay-Pauncefote treaty and cover every essential thing that was included in the amendments made by the senate to the document. He regarded it as of the utmost importance that the Clayton-Bulwer treaty should be wiped out. This result was effected by the convention under consideration. He asserted that all rights of the United States were amply protected under this treaty and that our absolute and complete control of the canal could not be questioned by Great Britain or any other power.

Senator Bacon.

Senator Foraker was frequently interrupted by Senator Bacon. In the course of one of these interruptions Senator Bacon asked if it was not true that under the terms of the treaty the construction of fortifications by the United States would be an act of war. Senator Foraker replied in the negative, declaring that not only would such an act not be an act of hostility, but that to build fortifications in case of necessity was one of the inherent rights of the government. To this Senator Bacon responded that he for one could never bring himself to vote for the ratification of the treaty with the understanding that his government was to violate it.

Senator Foraker retorted sharply to the effect that his friend from Georgia could be no more virtuous along the line of maintaining the country's honor in the matter of keeping its agreement with other nations than were other Senators. Senator Bacon replied that he had not meant to assume a virtue that he did not possess nor to imply that other Senators were not as jealous of the country's good name as he himself was. Senator Foraker then declared that he had not meant to charge Senator Bacon with an unfair assumption, but simply to say that like all other Senators supporting the treaty, he felt he was giving his name to a transaction which would be honorably carried out as between nations.

The Right to Fortify the Canal.

Senator Spooner who followed also was frequently interrupted by Senators on the Democratic side. One of the first interruptions came from Senator Bacon and pertained to the right to fortify the canal. Replying to this inquiry Senator Spooner said that it was a well known principle of international law that all treaties, like all statutes, must be read together, and he contended in this connection that the Clayton-Bulwer treaty the original Hay-Pauncefote treaty, and the preceding treaty for the proper construction of the agreement, should be considered as the series. The Clayton-Bulwer agreement had provided that there should be no fortifications of the canal and the Hay-Pauncefote treaty of the 56th Congress had carried a similar provision, clearly showing that England after contending for half a century against fortifications, had waived that provision, thus practically conceding our right to fortify the proposed canal.

Questions were asked by Senators Tillman and Bailey concerning the right of the United States to blockade the canal, and in reply Senator Spooner insisted that the government of the United States could not be bound by any treaty agreement which would prevent this country defending its own property in its own way in time of war. Senator Tillman pressed the inquiry somewhat, and he and Senator Spooner engaged in a somewhat spirited colloquy which as usual with them, ended good naturedly.

Our Coastwise Trade.

A very important question was raised by a number of Senators on the Democratic side as to the right of the United States to give a differential rate to vessels engaged in our coastwise trade. This matter brought other Senators from the Republican side of the chamber into the controversy, Senators Perkins and Nelson being among them. Senator Nelson insisted that under existing law the United States would have a perfect right to give to the coastwise trade of this country any benefit it might see proper in the use of the canal. It was perfectly well understood, he said, that the ships of a foreign nation could not do a coastwise business, and Great Britain had made the treaty with the full knowledge of this fact. Senator Perkins made the assertion that by the acquisition or control of a strip of territory through which the canal would pass, the United States would acquire rights which would subject that territory to our coastwise laws, and said foreign bottoms could not trade between ports of the United States and any other portion of the territory through which the canal was built. This was combatted to a certain extent by Senators Tillman and Bacon, the former intimating the opinion if that were true relative to the United States, Great Britain on account of her Canadian possessions and Mexico, both extending from ocean to ocean, also could contend for similiar privileges. This, he thought also, would be true of any South American country whose territory extends from ocean to ocean. Senator Spooner was decidedly of a contrary opinion and insisted that these countries did not acquire any rights of a coastwise trade character along the route of the proposed canal which territory was under the control of or which might be ceded to the United States.

THE FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Negro Problem in the South as Far as Relates to Unionism Unexpectedly Injected into the Proceedings.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SCRANTON, PA., Dec. 12.—Much life was infused into to-day's proceedings of the convention of the American Federation of Labor. The negro problem in the South, as far as it relates to unionism, was unexpectedly injected into the proceedings and the long standing conflict between the socialists and trade unionists promised to monopolize the attention of the delegates had the socialists replied to the trade unionists.

The negro question came up when the committee on law reported a resolution compelling all local unions affiliated with the federation to join the central labor bodies in their respective localities. W. A. Henry Clay, one of the two colored delegates from Virginia, made the point that the federation last week in deciding a contested seat where the color line was brought into question had authorized the creation of a separate central union in Richmond for colored workmen. The resolution was debated for more than an hour by many delegates. Charles C. Eckard, of the Anniston, Ala., trades council, made the principal speech in opposition to the resolution. He said the proposition would compel white unions to take in negroes, and if adopted by the convention, 90 per cent. of the unions south of Mason and Dixon's line would secede from the Federation. He declared the people of the North did not understand the negro problem. His remarks had some influence on the delegates and the resolution on recommendation of the committee on law was defeated.

Two resolutions were reported on the question of organising the common laborers into labor unions, and both were recommended to be sent to the executive council with instructions for that body to take up the matter and report at the next convention.

MRS. DENNIS MAY RECOVER.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The mystery of the assault made upon Mrs. Ada Gilbert Dennis, the fashionable modeste, is still baffling the police. At the hospital it was stated to-day that if no complications set in Mrs. Dennis will recover. She is conscious at intervals, but so far has not talked rationally. The police have found blood stains on the floor of the balcony in front of the first floor of Mrs. Dennis' house and many blood stains on the sidewalk on Eleventh street around the corner from the scene of the attack. They are disinclined to connect the latter stains with the case, but say that the stains on the balcony indicate that the one who committed the assault had stepped over the balcony leading to the front steps, instead of dropping into the parking below the balcony. William Lansdale, a boy who passed the house at midnight Monday, has reported that he saw a man descend the front steps at that time and that his action attracted the boy's attention. The description of the man given by the boy has been withheld by the police. The police are more inclined, however, to believe that the attack was made by a woman. It was pointed out at headquarters to-day that the window of the parlor adjoining Mrs. Dennis' sleeping room, through which the marauder escaped, had to be opened from the inside. A man's overcoat, bearing many stains on the front and sleeves, and a woman's apron, were found this afternoon in a sewer about four blocks from the Dennis house. Both articles were submitted to the district chemist for microscopic examination to determine blood stains, but none was developed, and the police do not regard the find as important.

GREAT STORM IN ENGLAND.

By Cable to the Morning Star

LONDON, Dec. 12,—A fierce gale is sweeping the English and Irish channels. Many vessels are seeking shelter and the life boats are busy rescuing small craft. Dover is experiencing the full force of the storm, and numbers of ships off there are making signals of distress. A Belgian fishing boat has foundered in the North Sea, resulting in the drowning of fourteen persons.

The snowfall continued throughout the day, and the gale was still raging last night. There is no doubt that many shipping disasters will be reported when the wires are restored.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—The Commercial Cable Company this evening sent out the following notice:

"Our latest advices from London indicate that there is no telegraphic communication between London and Liverpool and places north, including Scotland. A special train service from London to Liverpool has been established and the average run is about five hours."

NEGRO KILLED.

Shot in the Leg by a Clerk in a Country Store and Died After Amputation.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 12.—At Hugo, nine miles from Kinston, Tom Tate, a negro, was killed yesterday. Being told at the country postoffice there was no mail, he said that Lawrence Hazelton, the clerk, was "too damn lazy to look for it," and started behind the counter. Hazelton seized a shot gungun and fired, the bird shot striking the negro's knee. The leg was later amputated, but Tate died at night from the shock.

HOLIDAY RECESS FOR BOTH HOUSES

Concurrent Resolution Adopted for Adjournment From December 19 to January 6.

PROCEEDINGS IN THE SENATE

Favorable Report Made by Committee On Bill Relating to Adulteration of Food Products—The Shipping Bill Referred to Sub-Committee.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

WASHINGTON, December 12.—In the Senate to-day Senator Allison favorably reported the concurrent resolution adopted by the House, providing for a holiday recess from December 19th to January 6th, 1902, and it was agreed to.

Senator Hoar introduced, and the Senate passed, a resolution directing the Committee on Printing to consider the expediency of providing for the free distribution of the Congressional Record to libraries throughout the country.

Senator Bacon, from the Committee on Manufactures, submitted a favorable report on a bill relating to the adulteration of food products and addressed the Senate briefly, criticising certain products which had come under the observation of the committee.

The Senate at 1 P. M. went into executive session, and at 4:40 adjourned until Monday.

The Shipping Bill.

The Senate Committee on Commerce held a meeting to-day for the purpose of organizing its sub committees and referring to them the bills which have reached the committee. The most important change made in the sub committees was the substitution of Senator Barry as chairman of the sub-committee on bridges for Senator Vest. This position has been held by Senator Vest for a great many years, but was voluntarily surrendered by him on account of his health.

The shipping bill was referred to the sub-committee on ships and shipping, of which Senator Frye is chairman and of which Senator Hanna is a member. The measure was not discussed. There are two bills before the committee for the establishment of an executive department of the government to be known as the department of commerce, and these were referred to a special sub-committee consisting of Senators Nelson, Hanna and Clay.

UPON BROADER LINES.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—The reorganization of the Jewish Theological Seminary upon broader lines, with Dr. S. Schechter, reader in rabbinic at the University of Cambridge and professor at the University of London, as president of the faculty and Dr. Cyrus Adler, of the Smithsonian institute, as chairman of the board of trustees, will be announced in to-morrow's issue of the American Hebrew. The plan, it will be announced, has been made possible by donations of $300,000 in cash and the promise of further assistance. Of the money already received Jacob H. Schiff gave $100,000 and Daniel Guggenheim and Leonard Lewissohn $50,000 each. The formal announcement will say in part:

"We are further able to announce that other tenders of support have been made to the seminary in view of the proposed reorganization. One of these is that by Mr. Schiff, to erect a suitable building for the seminary in the neighborhood of Columbia University. It can be confidently stated in addition that should the proper fire-proof building be erected, the most important Hebrew library in the United States will ultimately come into the possession of the seminary, and in other quarters there is a revival of interest in this organization which leads to the confident expectation that it may before long take its place among the great Jewish institutions of learning."

SENATOR MORGAN'S BILL.

Providing for Acquisition of the Right of Way for an Isthmian Canal Via the Nicaragua Route.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, December 12.—The Senate committee on Isthmian canals to-day authorized a favorable report upon Senator Morgan's bill providing for the acquisition from Nicaragua and Costa Rica of the right of way via the Nicaragua route. Senator Morgan later presented this report to the Senate, accompanying the return of the bill with a voluminous report upon the general subject of a canal across the Isthmus. Action upon the bill providing for the construction of the canal was deferred.

Senator Morgan's report covers more than 500 pages of printed matter and deals with many of the questions connected with the construction of the canal, including a thorough inquiry into the attitude of Great Britain upon the subject, and the different canal routes. He also discusses the relationship of the Panama Canal Company to the construction by the United States of a water way across the Isthmus, and while he makes reference to a letter written by President Hutin of the Panama Company to Secretary of State Hay, he does not give the text of the communication.

PHILIPPINE TARIFF BILL.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Chairman Payne, of the Ways and Means Committee, and Mr. Richardson, of Tennessee, the ranking Democrat of the committee, were engaged to-day in preparing the majority and minority reports, respectively, on the Philippine tariff bill. Mr. Payne's report will be of an argumentative character and will be confined to an explanation of the new bill. The need of revenue for the islands, because of the extensive work of development and the establishment of schools, is set forth. The minority report promises to be quite extensive, taking up the subjects of colonial policy, imperialism and protection.

RELATIONS ARE STRAINED.

Between Chile and the Argentine Republic Chile Buying Warships—Both Countries Preparing for a Conflict.

By Cable to the Morning Star

BUENOS AYRES, Dec. 12.—The relations between Chile and the Argentine republic are strained. Chile has not yet replied to the demand relative to the construction of strategic roads in the litigated territory.

The Chilean answer to this demand will be given to-morrow. The Argentine government believes that the Chilean answer will be satisfactory, but a part of the press doubts this. In the meantime, both countries are taking protective measures, although Argentina has not yet mobilized the militia.

In case Chile's reply is not favorable, Argentina will withdraw her minister from Santiago de Chile, and the antecedents and history of the misunderstanding will be forwarded to Great Britain for arbitration.

Chile is busily engaged in buying warships, aiming to surpass the power of Argentina's fleet.

Commercial circles here hope that the influence of the Pope will prevent a conflict of arms between the two countries. Calm reigns here. There have been no warlike manifestations, but all parties are united in support of the government.

SANTIAGO, DE CHILE, Dec. 12.—The Chilean minister of foreign affairs will convey the answer of his government to the minister of the Argentine republic to-morrow.

There is a general movement in military circles.

There is a general feeling, however, that good sense will prevail and that every difference between Chile and the Argentine republic will be amicably settled.

IN THE FOURTH ROUND

Tim Hogarty Knocked Out by Kid Lavigne at Oakland, Cal.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

OAKLAND, Dec. 12.—George (Kid) Lavigne knocked out Tim Hogarty, of Australia, in the fourth round to-night. The betting at the ring side was 10 to 6 in favor of Lavigne. The men weighed in at 130 pounds. There was considerable interest in the event, as it was the first appearance in this country of Hogarty, who claims the championship of Australia.

In the final round Lavigne knocked Hogarty down with a left on the jaw. Hogarty got up in six seconds. With a left hook on the jaw Lavigne put Hogarty completely out. The fight was a fast and hot one.
